Benchmarking is a comparative study which is designed to yield improvements in practices, processes or outcomes. For this reason benchmarking would be the wrong strategy to pursue when the problem identified relates to deficiencies which do not arise from operating procedures.

A GUIDE TO BENCHMARKING - Curtin University

A benchmark study measures and compares usability metrics against a baseline study. Benchmark studies are typically run on a regular basis (monthly, quarterly, yearly, etc.) to evaluate how your product's experience has changed over time. These studies must have larger sample sizes, as compared to a basic qualitative (or formative) usability study, to make claims about positive and negative changes.
