The Bender Visual-Motor Gestalt Test is a psychological test used by mental health practitioners that assesses visual-motor functioning, developmental disorders, and neurological impairments in children ages 3 and older and adults. The test consists of nine index cards picturing different geometric designs. The cards are presented individually and test subjects are asked to copy the design before the next card is shown. Test results are scored based on the accuracy and organization of the reprod

Abstract. Three raters using the Koppitz developmental scoring system assessed the Bender protocols of 200 6-yr.-olds as part of a wider ranging longitudinal study. Results indicated that over-all interrater reliability was high ($r = .92$) but considerable variation occurred when individual error items were analyzed, ranging from 71% agreement when Figure A, 'distortion' of shape was involved, to 94% agreement for 'rotations' of Figure 1.
