No BS Time Management for Entrepreneurs explains that it's those little irritants and side tasks that only take a few minutes Not the time you spend in your office staring at the computer screen, on the phone, checking your email, or dealing with the umpteenth question from that employee that always seems to need just another minute of your time.

Management for Entrepreneurs has drastically improved my productivity and my time management. What made the difference? It was Dan's insistence on making appointments for the things we need to get done. There were many other helpful hints and habits shared but changing this one thing has changed everything.

Entrepreneurs Summary Dan Kennedy's No B.S. Time Truths. If you don't know what your time is worth, you can't expect the world to know it either. Vampires will suck as much blood out of you as you permit. If you're drained dry at day's end, it's your fault. If they can't find you, they can't interrupt you.

No B.S. Time Management for... book by Dan S. Kennedy

Quotes from No B.S. Time Management # 1 I make a lot of money each day just by not commuting. Most entrepreneurs spend at least an hour a day commuting (round trip). If you multiple that by five days a week for 50 weeks a year, that is 250 hours per year of wasted time. By working from home you could save yourself that time and be more productive.

No BS Time Management for Entrepreneurs - Second Edition Lee Iococca once said that top CEOs might squeeze in 45 productive minutes a day. A study of Fortune 500 CEOs found they averaged 28 productive minutes in a day. Most of us do a very poor job of managing our time, probably because we haven't learned to value it very much.

10 no bs time management tips. Is there such a thing as too many time management tips? We think not. But we all know that we should get up earlier and turn our phones off. We know that Trello can make us more organised and that meal-prepping saves us smashing a Tesco meal deal at our desk because that's all we have time for between jobs.
