This site contains most of my paper models that I have started creating since June 2010. Here, I must give my thanks to Cowboyleland for his brilliant idea on making 2.5d figures that are easy to build and look good from most angles. His method has been applied to make figures such as the wererat, snakeman, ghoul and praying mantis.

We create stuff like paper miniatures, terrain, VTT tokens and much more, every week, and release much of it for free. We know what it is like to want to have special content for the players in our group, and how complicated and time consuming it can be to prepare that kind of stuff. With that in mind we put together this Patreon page so we can share what we do and make it easier for those who want to have this sort of content in their games.

This is a basic tutorial on the production of 'paper minis' using Heromachine, Hero-O-Matic, or Marvel's Hero Generator to create stand-up figures for your gaming table. What is great about paper mini's is that you can print them color or B&W, you are not stuck with what is in stock because you can make whatever image you want to represent, if they rip or tear, you can print up more, and you dont have to worry about the weight nor the cost of traditional mini's.

Although it looks good it removes one of the key benefits of paper miniatures for me and that 's the ability to store a lot of miniatures in a small space. Saying that it is impossible to remove a miniature from a base short of ripping it off so during gaming they are very durable. First up Print and Cutout a base of the required size.
