The high-frequency words the students were responsible for knowing in this lesson were the color words: blue, red, yellow, orange, purple, and green. None of the four students could spell more than two of the words accurately. All four students had difficulty reading those words when they were mixed into lists with other high-frequency words.

The Dolch Sight Words list is the most commonly used set of sight words.

Educator Dr. Edward William Dolch developed the list in the 1930s-40s by studying the most frequently occurring words in children ' s books of that era. The list contains 220

“ service words ” plus 95 high-frequency nouns. These words comprise 80% of the words you would find in a typical children ' s book and 50% of the words found in writing for adults.
