At the end of grades 3 through 5, students are assessed in reading and mathematics, with an additional test in writing at the end of grade 4 and science at the end of grade 5. Grades 6 through 8 follow largely the same testing pattern, with reading and math tests every year, adding writing in grade 7, and science and social studies in grade 8. At these grade levels, test results are often used to assess readiness for instruction at the next grade level and can factor into promotion decisions.
