Case 2. This patient was 22 at the time of his Thorotrast ventriculogram in 1938 and his early history was recorded by R Hughes in 1953. 7 He had initially presented to an ophthalmologist in 1938 with a three-month history of headache, and was found to have mild bilateral papilloedema but apparently no other abnormality. After lumbar air-encephalography had shown displacement of both frontal ...
