I had read about this pub and wanted to go as it's a relic from yesteryear and only 10 minutes from where we live. We went with friends and as I had read about it I knew what to expect and explained this to our friends. 2 pints of bitter, 2 vodka and tonics and 2 packets of crisps came to £12. The Landlady is very nice and we were welcomed, the pub sits in its own grounds in the middle of ...
